

Doubleplover

is an exciting piece designed for youth wind orchestras, falling under the category of concert works. With a difficulty level of Level J, it is specifically tailored for young musicians.

Rating: Not Rated Yet

Price

Salesprice with discount

Sales price 36,00 €

Ask a question about this product

Description

This composition stands out due to its entertaining and captivating attributes. In addition to the musical performance, young musicians are encouraged to incorporate various effects that add a unique dimension to the piece. The rhythmic tapping on the mouthpiece and finger-popping effects contribute to its liveliness and fun, while also sharpening rhythmic precision.

"Doubleplover" offers not only musical challenges but also an opportunity for young musicians to showcase their creativity and individual expression. The piece is ideal for highlighting the skills of both wind instrumentalists and percussionists in the orchestra, while delivering an enjoyable performance.

Overall, "Doubleplover" is an energetic and fun-infused piece that brings vibrancy to the stage of youth wind orchestras. It allows young musicians not only to showcase their instrumental abilities but also to create an entertaining and rhythmic performance that will captivate the audience.

// //